Self-Reporting

CNA understands that policyholders have busy schedules, so our Risk Control team is introducing a streamlined method of gathering underwriting information. Now, select CNA policyholders can complete a risk control engagement using our time-saving technology, which allows them to quickly answer key questions and upload photos when needed.

What the policyholder will receive

Self-Reporting

Each policyholder will receive industry-specific questions, and can save the survey to finish later, forward it to a coworker for completion and add photos where requested.

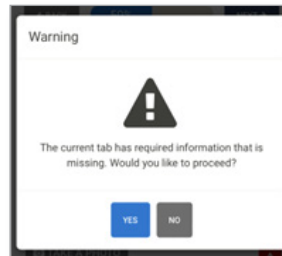

A progress bar is at the top of each screen. The proper form with industry-specific questions will be generated.

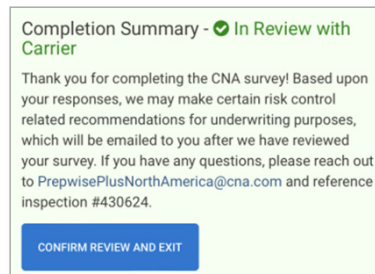

Some questions will ask for photos to be included. Example photos may be provided to help prompt policyholders to capture specific details.

If required information is not included, a warning message will display. The survey cannot be completed until these details are resolved.

A Completion Summary screen will appear at the end, allowing policyholders to confirm our review and exit the survey.
